History of Voluntary COOL Programs

Prepared by R-CALF USA

June 24, 2015

- Prior to the 2002 passage of today's COOL law, the FSIS and AMS offered a voluntary labeling program for meat products. During its first three years of operation, no suppliers participated in the program. 68 Fed. Reg., at 61,956, col. 1 (Oct. 30, 2003).
- The 2002 COOL law was initially implemented by USDA as a voluntary COOL program that went into effect on October 11, 2002. 67 Fed. Reg., at 63,367, col. 2 (Oct. 11, 2002). The program reserved the USA label only for meat derived from animals that were exclusively born, raised, and slaughtered in the United States. Id., at 63,373, cols. 2-3. By mid-2005, the Congressional Research Service reported that few if any retailers opted for the voluntary program. CRS Report, 97-508 ENR, June 3, 2005, at CRS-3. The voluntary program remained in effect for six years, until September 30, 2008, which was the date that the voluntary COOL program became mandatory. 73 Fed. Reg., 45106, (Aug. 1, 2008).
- In 2005 opponents to mandatory COOL introduced legislation to convert mandatory COOL to voluntary COOL for meat and they adopted the same born, raised, and slaughtered requirement contained in USDA's voluntary program. H.R. 2068 109th Congress. This legislation to convert COOL from mandatory to voluntary was introduced by Representative Goodlatte and did not pass largely because of R-CALF USA's strong opposition.
- When it issued its final COOL rule in 2009, USDA reaffirmed that there was a lack of widespread participation in voluntary labeling programs. 74 Fed Reg, at 2,682 (Jan. 15, 2009).
